

Decide what you want to be?

----- Supriya Kumar Chakraborty

In our country, from very early age of their children all parents dream that their male child will become in future an engineer or a doctor or a pilot, an army officer or a high-ranked officer. And their daughter will become a fashion designer, an architect, a doctor or a professor or a successful women entrepreneur.

In most cases, owing to various difficulties or due to lack of congenial atmosphere desired dreams of those parents could not be materialized. There are a lot of reasons behind this. All these reasons cannot be fully explained in short. Let's try to devise a way to conclude concerning this case. We are highlighting on this case briefly. Try to remember following top ten tips. These will be of great use to you. Certainly, success will come.

1. Practice to get up from bed at 6'O clock every day. From a habit of doing some physical exercise take a tasteful breakfast by satisfying your belly. Try to remember that a good breakfast can provide you with whole day's working stamina.
2. Attend your school/college/university classes on a regular basis. Following every class. If needed, discuss about your weak points in your subjects.
3. Give up the habit of studying upto late at night. It affects worsely. It never does greater good than normal course. During examination, don't engage your brain in matters those are out of syllabus. Try to be in a relaxed mood.

4. After passing 1st and 2nd gates of life, that is, SSC and HSC and before your preparation for going abroad for higher education, secure high score in spoken English, IELTS, TOEFL, SAT.
5. Before forwarding yourself in the fights of establishing yourself in life, try to learn about some successful stories in the field from your relatives, noted personalities and acquainted persons read as many books as you can.
6. Devise a plan on how your parents and you yourself dream for your future. Get everybody involved into the blue print of your master plan.
7. Engage yourself in some creative work when you are free from study pressure. Those works may include Red Crescent, Leo Club, Lions Club, Rotary Club, Chess, Cricket, Debate Club etc.
8. Give up bad habits like talking over mobile phone unnecessarily, exchanging SMS, chatting, browsing on internet, whiling away time with friends, staying outside home upto late at night, etc.
9. Follow parents' and teachers' advices, directions and instruction properly. Remembers they are your best friends. No other people can equalize them.
10. Love your life profoundly. Always think you have some responsibilities towards your family and your country. You have to become a perfect man.

Writer: Chief Education & Career Consultant of SA Associates Canada Inc, Dhaka Office, www.saavisa.com