

Planning to settled on abroad

----- Supriya Kumar Chakraborty

Our fervent request to students dreaming for going abroad for higher education and respected professional personalities deciding to go abroad along with their respective family on immigrant visa.

- Select realistic country, university, course program and subject.
- Consulting with main guardian of your family (particularly who will be your sponsor) and with your close relatives (who are established in their respective profession), plan for going abroad for higher education. The entire process depends on their financial capabilities.
- If you want to see yourself as a student of international standard, improve your merit status in IELTS, TOFEL, SAT, GRE, GMAT, EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES. No education or skill is useless.
- Do everything you think necessary for qualifying yourself in any point-based immigration program. It is better not to forward file against marginal pass mark, especially in the case where your merit status does not fill up their quota.
- Don't forget to maintain official correspondence in time. Be careful about E-mail, ID, Phone Nos. Website of your office boss. These must not be blocked.
- Don't forget to provide cover letter, statement of purpose, accomplishment service and reference letter.
- Writing a good CV/Resume (Formats varies for different countries) reflects your qualification. Therefore, you must maintain international standard in writing a CV/Resume. In foreign countries, 100-250 US dollar is charged for writing a CV or a Resume.

- Build up yourself as a dynamic info seeker in exchanging latest information by taking part in live chat of different immigration forums and universities.
- Until you get visa in hand, you must not make any publicity, sell out land and property, resign from service, stop attending university/college class, make massive plan or be a laughing stalk to others.
- Gather much information about the person or agency by whom or by which you are going to process your student visa or immigration visa file and then proceed. Review their success stories and then decide. Remember, you yourself have to think, plan, chalk out a master plan, be responsible for your future life, establishment, career and brilliant position.
..... Great Allah is to be beside you.
